German School of Osteopathy (OSD)

Hamburg | Bremen | Berlin | Nürnberg | Stuttgart

The Osteopathie Schule Deutschland (OSD) was founded by Torsten Liem DO in 1999. The OSD's goal is to achieve a high quality education in osteopathy and all its subdivisions, academically and didactically and practice-oriented, as well as the further development of osteopathy through research, publications and clinical networks, for example the Institute for Integrative Morphology (IIM), the Academy for pediatric osteopathy and the Academy for sports osteopathy.

We'll gladly provide advice!
